Reports Iceland Wants To Get Rid Of U.S. Troops

Elections Won't Alter Results

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Foreign Minister Kristinn Gudmundsson declared Thursday night Iceland is determined to get rid of U. S. troops.

Gudmundsson told correspondents, however, that Iceland will abide by its obligations otherwise as a North Atlantic ally.

The foreign minister said Iceland's stand on U. S. forces would not be affected by the results of the parliamentary elections Sunday.

Gudmundsson speaks only for the Progressives, second-ranking party in Iceland. The Independence (conservative) party of Premier Olafur Thors is concerned about a possible U.S. withdrawal.

Gudmundsson charged the United States "wants a base on Iceland to protect its own security, but this is not security for Iceland."

Asked if he thought Iceland could escape the consequences of a war with such an attitude, he replied:

"No, we cannot escape the consequences, but this would happen whether the base was here or not. Do you think this little base would be any deterrent in the event of a nuclear attack?"

The base is Keflavik, considered by NATO a key warning point in the North Atlantic network of anti-Soviet defenses.

Shelbyville To Get $22 Million Reservoir

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Public Works subcommittee Thursday approved construction of $22,825,000 flood control reservoir at Shelbyville, Ill.

At the request of Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-Ill), the subcommittee recommended that Army Engineers be authorized to build the reservoir as part of the Kaskaskia River flood control program.

The full Public Works Committee must yet pass on the project. The committee may decide next week whether to include it in an omnibus flood control bill to be presented to Congress.

Stengel Lashes Out At Dirksen

CHICAGO (AP)—Richard Stengel, Democratic candidate for a U.S. Senate seat, lashed out Thursday night at the foreign policy record of his opponent, Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen.

He stated that Dirksen "has voted to undercut and destroy the foreign policy of both Democratic and Republican administrations."

Stengel, a state representative from Rock Island, was saluted at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner sponsored by the Stengel for Senator Committee.

He said "Republican leadership in Congress has impeded and hamstrung" the President in the conduct of foreign relations.

"My opponent," he added "has made determined efforts to hamstring the President with constitutional amendments conceived in isolationism.

"He voted to hang the Bricker amendment around the President's neck and, when that failed by one vote, he then brought out a new and equally dangerous proposal to hog-tie the President in the conduct of foreign policy."

Stengel said the Republican opposition is "loaded with money."

LEGS BROKEN BY DRIVERLESS CAR

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) —A 3-year-old girl's legs were broken Thursday by a driverless car that pinned her against the brick wall of a grocery here.

Little Barbara Merry's parents were inside shopping when the family car rolled forward. Barbara was playing in front of the car. Two other Merry children, Sharon, 5, and Donnie, 6, were in the car.

Barbara was taken to a Hillsboro, Ill., hospital.

Twining, Nine More Leave For Moscow To See Air Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, and nine other officers left Thursday for Moscow to witness a Russian air show and see other spots outside the Soviet capital.

Twining said before taking off he had received Wednesday night an "interesting" itinerary that made "clear" the American party would be allowed to go to other places after the formal air parade in Moscow on Sunday.

The general declined to give any details of the itinerary.

He did say he would like to ride in Soviet warplanes. And he indicated he may give an account of the journey via a nationally televised and broadcast speech when he returns. He said he expects the trip will last 10 to 12 days.

Twining told newsmen at national airport he and the other air officers are going to Russia "to see and to listen."

Afterward, he said, he will report to President Eisenhower, his Pentagon superiors and then perhaps "to the American people."

The air chief said in answer to a question that he was not carrying any invitation for Soviet air officials to return the visit.

The C118 flying Twining and the other generals and colonels to Europe took off after noon.

After spending a day at a U. S. installation in Europe, the group will fly to Berlin and pick up a Russian navigator and radioman for the rest of the trip. The air force plane is scheduled to arrive in Moscow at about 4 p.m. local time Saturday.

Methodists Invite Negroes To Next Meeting

DEKALB, Ill. (AP) —Delegates to the annual convention of the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church Thursday voted unanimously to invite representatives from churches in the Lexington Conference to next year's meeting.

The Lexington Conference is made up of Negro churches. The resolution would invite delegates from any of these churches within the boundaries of the Rock River Conference to the convention.

Also adopted was a resolution enabling the Rock River Conference's Board of Social and Economic Relations to meet with the comparable group of the Lexington Conference and discuss integration of churches.

In other actions, the delegates passed a budget of more than one million dollars to cover work beyond the level of local churches. The budget totals $1,028,477, an increase of $211,477 over last year's.

Miss Blanche Rutledge of Chicago was elected treasurer of the conference. She has been acting treasurer since December 1955.

ELECTROCUTED LISTENING TO PHONOGRAPH

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 10-year-old girl died suddenly while listening to phonograph music with playmates on the patio of her trailer home in nearby Bensalem Township Wednesday.

The girl, Melody Hernandes, was the daughter of C.P.P. Victor J. Hernandes, 29, stationed at the Philadelphia Naval Base.

Bucks County Coroner Thomas Lamb said an autopsy showed the muscles of little Melody Hernandes' heart were tightly contracted, indicated she was a victim of electrocution.

The coroner said apparently 110 volts went through the girl's body when she came in contact with the metal case of the electric record player and a metal heating register in the floor of the trailer.

Humphreys New Senator From Kentucky

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Robert Humphreys, veteran Democratic state chairman and long-time personal friend of Gov. A. B. Chandler, was appointed U.S. senator from Kentucky Thursday.

Chandler named Humphreys, 61, Frankfort, to serve as replacement for the late Democratic Sen. Alben W. Barkley until a successor is elected at the Nov. 6 general election.

The governor said he "had not intended" appointing anyone immediately but did so when advised a defense bill is due to come up for what he called an "important" vote in the Senate Monday.

Humphreys said he would fly to Washington Saturday night.

Humphreys, a pharmacist, resigned as state highway commissioner to accept the senatorship. His deputy, Bert Kiser, Olive Hill, was promoted to commissioner.

Chandler Monday had appointed Joseph J. Leary, Frankfort attorney and close adviser, to the Senate. But Leary turned it down Wednesday after the Democratic State Committee had nominated former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby. Chandler's predecessor and political foe, to run for the remaining four years of Barkley's term.

$32 Billion Highway Bill All Set To Be Made Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—House-Senished their work Thursday on the huge highway bill and everything was set for it to become law by July 1. It is a $32,900,000,000 project.

One of the conferees, Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), called it "the greatest governmental construction program in the history of the world."

"Through the provisions of this bill," Fallon said, "the American people will ride safely upon many thousands of miles of broad, straight, trouble-free roads, four to eight lanes wide, criss-crossing America from coast to coast and border to border, built to the very highest standards that our highway engineers can devise.

"When this program is completed we will be able to decrease traffic fatalities substantially and save the motoring public many billions of dollars now wasted on our outworn, obsolete, inadequate roads."

Both the House and Senate are expected to approve the conferees' report next week, and President Eisenhower is similarly expected to sign it at once. There never has been much quarrel over the need of better highways, but progress has lagged because of disputes over financing and lesser details.

The bill provides for new federal taxes amounting to $14,800,000,000 during the 16 years the program is to run. This money would be combined with taxes already levied on highway users to raise the total needed.

Chief among the new revenue raisers will be a one-cent-per-gallon increase in the present two-cent federal tax on gasoline. Other new taxes apply to tires, tread rubber, fuels other than gasoline, trucks, buses and trailers.

The conferees on the tax sections of the bill restored the revenue figure to $14,800,000,000 voted by the House instead of $14,500,000,000 as passed by the Senate.

They did this by accepting the House provision on a new annual use tax to be put on heavy trucks. This provision applies the tax at the rate of $1.50 per 1,000 pounds on the full weight of each vehicle weighing 26,000 pounds or more.

The Senate had made the rate $2.50 but applied it only on the portion of the truck weighing more than 26,000 pounds.

Ike Walks Down Hall First Time Since Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower walked down a hall at Walter Reed Hospital Thursday, the first time he has been out of his room since his June 9 operation.

He also had a 40-minute visit from an old friend, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and worked on White House business for 40 minutes with members of his staff.

Constant Gas Supply Necessary, Says Glass Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — A Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., executive said Thursday his firm contracted with Illinois Power Co's., natural gas supplier because Illinois Power could not promise a relatively uninterrupted gas supply.

M. E. Carlisle, construction and purchasing manager of Pittsburgh's glass division, testified at an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing.

Gordon Cavenagh, ICC examiner, continued the petition until July 18 in Springfield. Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. has petioned to supply gas to Pittsburgh's proposed plant near Decatur.

Illinois Power Co., a Panhandle customer and holder of a gas certificate for the area, protested in an intervening petition that its rights and interests in the sale of gas for resale would be adversely affected.

Carlisle testified that conferences with Illinois Power officials established that the possibility of interruption in the gas supply made it impractical "for use to be on their lines."

Panhandle has a contract with Pittsburgh Plate Glass to supply gas from pipes running across Pittsburgh's property to a daily maximum of five million cubic feet.

Carlisle said a steady supply of natural gas is necessary for the manufacture of glass. The new plant will be located elsewhere if an adequate supply is not available, he said.

The word "alphabet" comes from two ancient Greek letters: "alpha" and "beta."

Presidential Secretary James C. Hagerty said he was hesitant about calling this Eisenhower's most active day since his operation, but it was one of his busier ones.

Hagerty relayed a 5:15 p.m. (EDT) bulletin from the President's doctors which said he "had another restful afternoon," napping and reading at intervals.

"His pulse, temperature, blood pressure and respiration are normal," the report added. "His condition continues to progress very satisfactorily."

Hagerty said that in the meeting with Gen. Gruenther, Eisenhower "asked many questions in connection with the general discussion of NATO."

The secretary said he could "flatly say" that Gruenther and Eisenhower did not discuss politics.

The President said in a letter to McLeaish, who has denied excessive drinking, that his agency has done a good deal for the benefit of low income farmers.

"You have my best wishes for your health and happiness in the years ahead," the President added.

Eisenhower walked from his Walter Reed Hospital bed into the corridor outside his room. There he sat in an armless chair, behind a nurse's desk, chatting with his wife and doctors for about 20 minutes before walking back to his bed. All told, he walked some 80 feet and did so without support. The mid-day medical bulletin issued later said his condition "continues to progress very satisfactorily."

New Toll Rates On Ohio Turnpike Start Monday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New toll rates for trucks using the Ohio Turnpike go into effect at 12:01 a.m. (EST), Monday, June 25, the Turnpike Commission announced Thursday.

Last Tuesday, the commission approved reductions of certain truck toll rates on the 241-mile road.

The lower rates range from 25 cents to $5 in seven toll classifications. Rates for trucks weighing between 7,000 and 16,000 pounds are boosted from $4.75 to $5.00 for the complete trip.

The new rates are expected to produce additional revenue estimated at more than 1½ million dollars per year.

Yugoslavs, Russ End All Past Bad Relations: Tito

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito said today he and the leaders of the Soviet Union have "abandoned all that was bad between us," the Moscow radio reported.

The Yugoslav leader spoke on his arrival at Kiev en route home after a triumphant three - week visit to the Soviet Union in which he and the Kremlin bosses agreed to cooperate in the future on the basis of complete equality.

Once an outcast of the Communist family by orders of Stalin, Tito was quoted by the Moscow radio as saying in his Kiev speech, delivered in Russian:

"The most important thing is this job which we have done now with the leaders of your government. We have abandoned all that was bad between us, which was caused neither by the Soviet nor the Yugoslav people. All this should be forgotten.

"We have embarked on a new path. There is no difference between you, the Soviet people, and the Yugoslav people."

HST Asks New Magna Carta Of Economic Rights

OXFORD, England (AP)—Harry S. Truman has called for a new Magna Carta to include "economic well-being . . . health, education and decent living standards among our inalienable rights."

The former U. S. President made an appeal for a better life for underprivileged people in a speech Wednesday night before 400 graduates of Oxford's Christ Church College. Earlier Wednesday the ancient British university conferred an honorary doctorate of civil law on him.

"Every man should have the benefit of the best in medicine, he continued, and every boy and girl the highest educational training from which they can profit. The aged, he added, should be free of economic worries in their declining years."

Charged with mail theft was Claude Russell of Pittsburgh, Pa., father of nine children and a postal employe for 17 years.

Russell, a baggage car mail handler, was seized June 15 by postal inspectors as he stepped off a train in Chicago. Authorities said he admitted taking money from envelopes addressed to Boys Town for a period of about a year.

USW Union Warns Workers To Prepare For Strike June 30

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union Thursday told the 650,000 workers in the industry to prepare for a shutdown of steel plants at midnight June 30 in the event current contract negotiations fail.

David J. McDonald, union president, accused the nation's steel firms of conspiring to force a shutdown.

McDonald issued his statement after a fruitless three-hour negotiating session between the steelworkers and the big three steel firms — U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic.

McDonald said:

"If the industry persists in its ultimatum to the union to 'take or leave', a five-year unacceptable contract, then it should be crystal clear to the American people that the 11 steel companies, for reasons of their own, are proceeding with their conspiracy to force a shutdown in steel.

"The responsibility for this shutdown, if it occurs, will plainly rest with these companies."

The union had negotiated individually earlier this week with eight companies in addition to the big three.

McDonald said the union "is today transmitting to all affected local unions appropriate instructions for use in the event a shutdown in the steel industry takes place midnight June 30.

"These instructions are equally applicable to a strike or a lockout."

Present two-year contracts in the industry expire at midnight, June 30.

Company negotiators had no immediate comment on the McDonald statement.

I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer of the union, meanwhile sent a long list of what he called "strike arrangements" to all the union's district directors and staff representatives.

Arthur J. Goldberg, the union general counsel, simultaneously sent to them a "legal memorandum for use in the event of a steel strike."

It contained instructions concerning strikers' rights, unemployment insurance benefits and other questions that might arise in the event of a shutdown.

Union talks with the big three resumed Thursday after a four-day deadlocked lapse during which the union attempted negotiations with the individual companies.

The talks with the big three will continue Friday at 2 p.m.

2-YEAR-OLD DROWNS IN BACK YARD SWIMMING POOL

CHICAGO (AP) — A 2-year-old boy whose mother missed him for "about two minutes" drowned in the backyard swimming pool of his suburban home Thursday.

Police said the pool was surrounded by a fence, but Charles Goodwin Smith, Jr., apparently slipped through a gate that was not tightly closed.

The boy's mother said she dived fully clothed into the pool when she saw the boy's body floating in eight feet of water. Firemen tried vainly for an hour to revive him.

Crop Land Grazed In June May Go Under Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today that crop land grazed up to June 22 this year may be placed under the new soil bank program.

Heretofore, regulations had banned from inclusion in the soil bank any crop land on which a crop had already been harvested, hay cut or grazed any time this year.

The revised regulation still excludes any land on which crops have been harvested or may cut.

Permission to place grazed land under the bank program was granted, officials said, because the farmers did not know until late last month, when the new farm law was passed that there would be a soil bank program this year.

Hence, they said, it would work an undue hardship on many to ban land that had been grazed.

Under the program, the government pays farmers for underplanting allotments of surplus crops.

To Marry Marilyn Monroe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Playwright Arthur Miller put on a real life drama in two acts Thursday by 1. announcing he will marry Marilyn Monroe and 2. publicly acknowledging he had erred by supporting Communist fronts.

"I would not support now a cause dominated by Communists," he said.

The Capitol was the backdrop for the drama. Miller, 40, tall and lanky in a navy blue suit and smoking a pipe, was center stage before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The Pulitzer prize winner told the committee he wanted a passport to go to England to see about production of a play and "to join the woman who will be my wife."

It was during a recess he told reporters he would marry the curvaceous Marilyn before she went to London July 13 to make a movie.

Now the man who wrote such plays as "Death of a Salesman" and "The Crucible" will marry the pin-up girl of the troops.

Date, time and place still are undetermined, Miller said.

That was confirmed by Marilyn, who issued this statement in New York through a press agent:

"We are not sure when or where our marriage will take place, but it will definitely be before July 13 when I plan to leave for London."

A honeymoon—that's unsettled. And it could be Mrs. Marilyn Monroe Miller will go to London alone July 13 if Miller does not get the passport for which he applied about five weeks ago.

The committee called Miller to talk about why he was denied a passport in 1954 on the ground that his travel abroad would not be in the best interests of the United States.

"I was never under Communist party discipline," Miller said.

HOUSE APPROVES 16 MILLION FOR PUBLIC PROJECTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee today approved almost 16 million dollars for public works projects in Illinois in the year starting July 1.

Rep. Murray (D-Ill), one of the conferees, said the committee approved $15,592,000 for construction and $404,000 for planning.

Fifteen projects will share construction money, including the Calumet-Sag channel near Chicago, repairs to Mississippi local 19 near Keokuk, Iowa, building of regulating works on the Mississippi River and various levee and flood control projects.

Murray said estimated cost of present and planned federal projects in Illinois totals $240,106,000.

Algerian Police Arrest 40 Suspects Concerning Killings

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Police arrested 40 suspects Thursday in a wide-ranging manhunt for rebels who killed 4 European civilians here Wednesday and who threatened new vengeance raids on cities.

Rebel leaflets found by police and soldiers said the attack in crowded downtown Algiers was reprisal for the beheading of two convicted rebels on the French guillotine Tuesday. Fifteen other Europeans were wounded as the rebel commandos sprayed the streets with pistol shots.

The leaflets vowed that French prisoners of the rebels will now be shot.

"The National Army of Liberation has decided to change its tactics," the rebel proclamations said. "It is going to carry the war into the cities.

"If any more of our people are executed the French will pay very dearly. Our soldiers who fight for liberation in the mountains will be without pity for the French soldiers.

"Already we have announced that we will take no more prisoners. As for the soldiers in our hands, who have been well-treated we are going to shoot them. . ."

The two rebels were the first prisoners to be executed by the French. About 100 others have been sentenced to death. But for fear of alienating Algerian sympathies, the French have delayed those executions.

Police said they smashed one terrorist cell in their search but were mum on other phases of the manhunt.

In addition to the 4 civilians killed in Algiers Wednesday evening, 21 French soldiers were killed in two separate engagements. Ten Foreign Legionnaires were killed and seven wounded in an ambush near Sidi bel Abbes. Pursuit there was still in progress Thursday morning.

Another ambush Wednesday near Ain Chair, on the Moroccan border, brought death to 11 other French soldiers, including two officers. French sources said 15 rebels were killed there.

To Prove We Care

In the years right after World War II, the name "CARE" rang out a quick bell in most American minds. It was a symbol of individual help to the needy in shattered Europe. Today it draws less public attention, but the agency is still doing the same remarkable job.

Originally, CARE was set up in 1945 to afford a safe channel by which individuals could send food packages to relatives and friends in Europe. It created missions in many countries to oversee and control the delivery of this assistance.

Countless people eager to help simply asked CARE to locate someone in need. More than 75 per cent of CARE's present volume of packages fall today into this "undesignated" category.

In its 10-year life, CARE has dispatched and delivered enough packages to feed 76 million people, a total of 2,100,000,000 meals. Altogether, some 211 million dollars has been contributed by Americans for this purpose.

CARE's total shipments of food, clothing, blankets and self-help tools would fill 11,450 freight cars. They have included such items as 101 million pounds of dry milk, 47 million pounds of cheese, 42 million dozen eggs and 32 million pounds of meat.

Also catalogued were 300,000 blankets and 4 million yards of cotton and wool textiles for clothing.

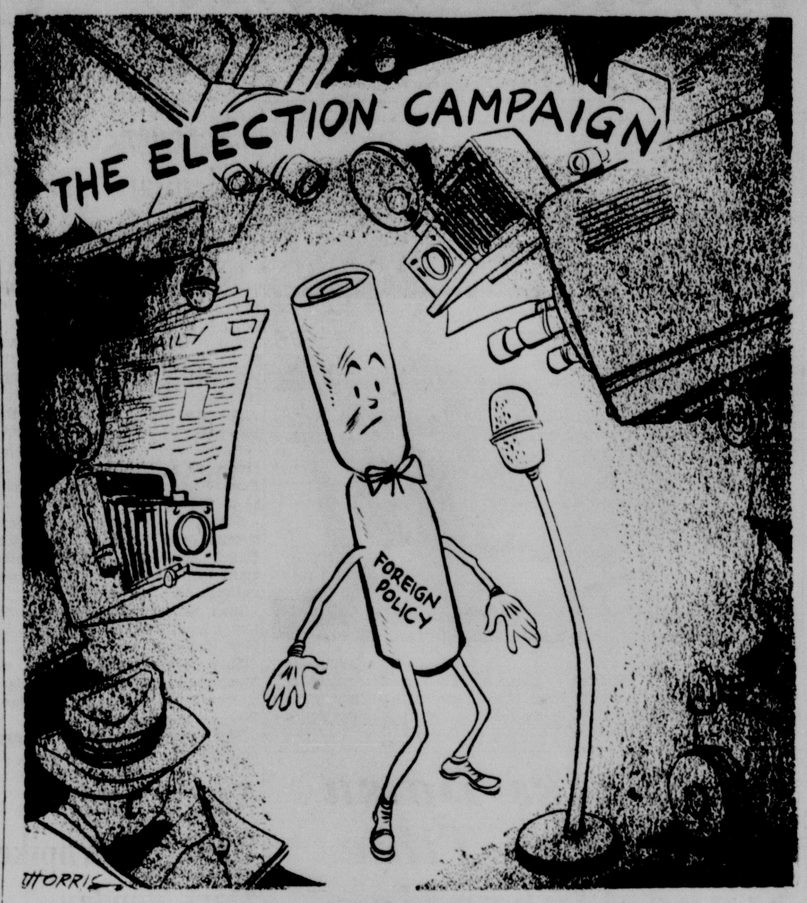

CARE has tried to guide these shipments carefully to the most needy areas. As Europe recovered, attention was turned in some measure to Asia and Latin America. Food packages naturally are designed to meet the specific habits of the people receiving them.

From 1945 to the present, CARE has operated at one time or another in 54 countries. Right now it is set up in 23. Places where need has diminished have been closed out.

This is not "foreign aid" in the usual government sense. It represents the cooperative effort of many organizations and millions of individuals, all of whom have been moved to help others in a quite personal way.

CARE is a stirring enterprise, conceived and carried out in the best American tradition of helpfulness to unfortunate folk around the world.

Thinking It Over—

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Blind men grope their way through eternally darkened streets because someone failed in his human responsibilities. Cripples move uncertainly on their crutches or artificial limbs because someone lost his temper. Murders have been committed because people lost their sense of values.

Souls have been lost because men shut God out of their lives. Someone will say there is no excuse for an unruly temper, or for a moment of thoughtless destruction. Others argue that honor and restitution and the payment of penalties must be maintained.

There probably was not much justification for the killing of millions of people in war, and for the hanging of a man on a cross 2,000 years ago. In retrospect, a lot of destruction has been caused, much grief has occurred, and an abundance of suffering has developed because tempers have flared.

It is strange that we are so much the slaves of hatred and so-called justice that we cannot allow reason and love to delay impulsiveness until God can show us better ways.

If there were ever cause for punishment it was when an innocent Son of God was killed on Calvary, but God did not smite a single person. He allowed the eternal conscience of man to create more justice than restitution could have developed.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Meet Clark Gable, businessman.

It's a new role for the longtime king of the movie stars. During his lengthy MGM contract, he was considered an actor only. He wasn't encouraged to peer behind the scenes. The studio attitude was: "Just come in and read your lines, boy. We'll do the rest."

Look at him now. He's making "The King and Four Queens" on a partnership deal between Russ-Field Productions (Jane Russell and Bob Waterfield) and his own outfit, Gabco. And he's taking part in all phases of production.

"Wow, it's a big job, making a picture," he observed between scenes. "I learn something new every day. This time I'm sticking with the picture from the beginning to the end. I was in on script sessions and other matters, and I'll be with it until we finish the cutting and scoring in August.

"No, they never encouraged me to do anything like this at Metro. Except when I made pictures with Sam Zimbalist as producer. He's an independent sort of a guy and a crackerjack moviemaker. He'd let me watch how the picture was put together.

"The production end really interests me. If I can get my own company well established, I look forward to the time when I can produce pictures without being in them."

One function he does not intend to perform: Salesman. Many Stars who turn producer go out on the road to peddle their product. Not Clark.

"That's up to United Artists, to sell the picture," he laughed. "I went through that routine in the early days. I was in a picture with Joan Crawford called 'Dancing Lady,' and MGM had me appear four times a day at the Capitol Theater in New York. It was murder!"

The bad part of it, he recalled, was that he was competing with himself. MGM had insisted on the personal appearance because he was also appearing in New York in another picture, an item called "It Happened One Night." That all-time hit did better than Gable in the flesh.

I happened on the set when Gable was singing, of all things. Surrounded by his four queens—Eleanor Parker, Barbara Nichols, Sara Shane, Jean Willes — he was pedaling an oldtime pipe organ and singing hymns.

You have undressed, bathed and en-cribbed your three-year-old son; and now to his demand for a story you are saying with false confidence, "Not tonight, my puppy. Mommy has to get Grammy and Grandpa their supper."

It doesn't work. Halfway down the stairs, you are halted by the peremptory shout, "Mommy, tell me a story!"

From the living room, your mother calls soothingly, "Come on down, dear. I'll go up and tell Billy a story."

Only later do your child's terrified questions identify the plot line of the horror tale Grammy has used to induce his slumber. You remember it. It traces the doom visited upon a character named Hoppy Hoptoad who disobeyed his mother.

Told to remain at home while she went shopping, Hoppy chose to leave it and seek the lively company of his cousins, the Frogs. But when he agreed to join their water sports, he jumped into their pool only to discover that he could not swim. As he repentantly drowned, Hoppy (according to Grammy) gurgled his dying wish, "Oh, if I'd only been a good boy—and obeyed my Mommy!"

What identification your baby has made with this sinful amphibian, you'll never know. All you'll know is that as you pass your mother the whipped potatoes, he emits a fail of terror that shocks everyone into silence. "Mommy, come here! he shuost despairingly. "Mo—om—ummy!"

In this situation, only the inexperienced mother, her mind on roast chicken, plans on quick repair of damage. So it is not repaired. Her eagerness to get away from the frightened child increases his terror that sleep can separate him eternally from her as death divided Hoppy Hoptoad from his mother. Unassuaged, it will make him a chronic sleep fighter.

The experienced parent gives the child time. Excusing herself to her guests, she makes a clear decision to give him time so that she herself is not double-minded and impatient.

Lying down beside the frightened child, she begins the work of making sleep benevolent again. She says, "So the Mommy Bunny took a maple leaf that was all warm and sweet from the sun and tucked it around Peter like this. Oh, how glad he was to be home after disobeying her! How he loved her for forgiving him—and snuggling down into his soft moss . . ."

Premature Births Take Heavy Toll of Babies' Lives

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Approximately 80,000 babies die within the first month of life in the United States alone. Of these, about half fail to survive the first 24 hours. About one half of those who die under one week of age are premature infants. Nearly one fourth of all premature babies die.

Much progress has been made in the care of the prematurely born infant so that a larger number survive than in the past. It is well known that premature babies who survive the critical early period of life usually grow to be entirely normal. Yet, prematurity is still a medical problem of great importance.

Without casting any reflection on the organizations working to support research on such killers as cancer or heart disease, we should realize that the newborn infant cannot speak for himself or raise money to prolong his life. Yet he too has as much right to live as anyone eles.

THERE IS investigative work going on in this field. Some is supported by grants made by the Playtex Park Research Institute which is a non-profit foundation devoted to the support of pediatric research.

Already some of the results of studies in this field show promise of practical value.

The research team at the University of Colorado Medical Center at Denver, for example, has reported some work which may make it possible to predict whether a child will be born prematurely some time before the event. A sex hormone deficiency combined with early activity of the womb may be an early sign of forthcoming premature birth, these investigators believe.

Another line of investigation is extraordinarily interesting. This revolves around the question of the oxygen supply of the infant while still unborn.

THIS WAS THE subject of a scholarly and fascinating address by a prominent Baltimore obstetrician two or three years ago.

The first portion of his discussion dealt with mountain climbing and particularly the effects of the lowered oxygen pressures present high in the sky.

From this he proceeded to point out that so far as oxygen pressure is concerned, the unborn baby lives considerably higher than the top of Mt. Everest (over 29,000 feet) and that this would be fatal for a healthy grown-up.

Obviously, the child before birth is adjusted to this low oxygen environment. But if anything goes wrong, undesirable effects may occur. Also, the quick change to the outside atmosphere must inevitably place quite a burden of adjustment on the newly born baby.

WHAT ALL THIS means is still to be determined.

Some studies in Colorado may clarify certain aspects of the situation. It has been found that babies born in Lake County, Colorado, average ½ of a pound less in weight than those born in Denver. Lake County is almost two miles above sea level and Denver about one mile and thus there is a real difference in the amount of oxygen in the two areas.

It is, then, the difference in oxygen available to the mothers in the two regions which is responsible for the difference in the average weight of their children? If it is, what does this mean?

The answers to many of these questions will be awaited with profound interest.

Advice to Wives—Snap Leash Off Your Husband

Take that chain off your husband and let him enjoy a little freedom.

That's my advice to the woman who writes: "Every summer my husband and I take a vacation together, always spending part of it with my parents who live 600 miles away.

"This year he has a chance to go on what he thinks will be a wonderful fishing trip with three men friends.

"He has asked me if I would mind taking the children to my parents and letting him go on the fishing trip. We would be gone at the same time.

"However, I haven't yet said 'yes' and I haven't said 'no.' I'm still undecided. To be honest about it I am afraid to turn him loose for two weeks. Men seem to get into so much trouble I am not sure that even the best of them can be trusted. What do you think I ought to do?"

As I said before, take that chain off your husband and let him enjoy a little freedom.

HE'LL COME HOME HAPPIER

If you've been keeping him on such a short leash all of your married life it is a wonder he hasn't broken loose to kick up his heels already.

You just married that man, you know. You didn't buy him. He isn't a possession.

If he wants to spend his vacation fishing with some of his cronies he has a perfect right to do just that.

Tell him he can't and if you don't have a fight on your hands you will at least have a surly husband.

And if you are still scared after you turn him loose just remember this: No woman can keep a man on a short enough leash to keep him from straying if he wants to stray.

But the husband who loves his wife will come back from two weeks away from her delighted to be home again.

So you really aren't taking any chance at all.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The world's Communists — particularly in this country, Italy and France — have been having a time trying to get straight on the new line laid down by Moscow.

That line was given by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev last February in Moscow in the same speech in which he attacked Stalin as a maniacal murderer.

He said Reds in the non-communist countries should shift tactics; they didn't need to try civil war if they could take over peacefully, through parliamentary means, by forming united fronts with Socialists and others.

Violence, he said, would still be necessary where united front tactics failed. And he told them, in effect, that if they wanted to gain support from non-Reds in their own countries they'd have to show some independence of Moscow.

The way he put it was that Communism could be achieved in various countries in various ways. find it expedient not to appear to be following the Moscow line.

This sounded simple. But he had actually put Red leaders in the non-Communist world over a barrel by his revelations about Stalin's monstrosities, because during the lifetime of Stalin, they had been Stalin's blind, dumb and obedient yes-men.

How could their judgment be trusted any more? How could they now convince anyone to form a united front with them? In the end the answer may be—to give the various parties a new look—that the present leaders may have to step down.

They took time thinking it over. A month after Khrushchev's speech the American Communist party leadership at a secret meeting decided to shift tactics, seek a united front, and try to give the appearance of independence of Moscow by criticizing the Russians from time to time.

The program was outlined by the real party boss, Eugene Dennis, who had been a 100 per cent Stalinist. But John Gates, editor of the party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, apparently got his signals crossed.

On June 6—after a 25,000-word portion of Khrushchev's speech had been printed in the American press — Gates, also an absolute Stalinist, wrote an editorial which blasted Stalin but also challenged Khrushchev and Stalin's other heirs to explain how Stalin's crimes occurred while they were around him.

It is reliably understood that the party leadership jumped on Gates' neck for going too far. This wasn't the kind of criticism they had in mind. Meanwhile, Dennis put in writing, now published, the American party's new look.

Boyle's Column

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

There is a disease in middle age that cripples more people than penumonia—or so I believe.

This disease is cancer of the mind. It symptoms are an unreasoning discontent with life, a feeling of futility that sears the souls of so many people in their middle years.

Recently a man I have known for years came up and spoke with me. In the midst of a casual conversation he suddenly blurted out:

"Tell me, what do you do when you know for sure you aren't going to go any further? What has a guy got left?"

My friend was deeply depressed. He was suffering from his first onset of "middle age sickness," one sign of which is that a man gets tired of himself and starts thinking he is a human failure.

For the life of me, I couldn't see why, and I told him so. To begin with he was wrong. His job future didn't lie in the past. He hadn't reached his limit of promotion in his field, and his fears that he had gone about as far as he could go were strictly premature.

But even if he had at nearly 50 achieved the top job and income of which he was capable, was that much a disaster?

This man owned his own home and his own car. He had kept his family comfortably fed, sheltered and clothed, and all were healthy. He had educated his two children and both had turned out well. Neither was a cop fighter or a poolroom shark.

By any sensible standard this man was a real success. He had done far better than most men throughout mankind's troubled history, which has been a long search for safety, a full stomach, and a warm place out of the cold to dream in for a while.

Why should it make him either a better or happier man if he should now go on and pile up enough money to become the richest fellow in his part of the cemetery? What if he doesn't ever get a bigger job? Should that make him feel living has lost its luster?

For some reason, although middle age has been in the world for quite some time, it catches most people by surprise—and too often with a deep dismay.

The middle-aged wife, whose children are grown and flown, is inclined to brood that she has fulfilled her purpose in life and is no longer needed. The middle-aged husband, recognizing it is now highly unlikely he can ever realize the grandiose dreams of his youth, feels himself a rut-bound prisoner of time.

This "middle age sickness" turns some people crabbed and sour. As any doctor knows, it leads to all sorts of maladies in others. Many even lose all zest for life and shrivel to death, like a flower caught by a late frost.

We are doing a lot of "education for living" nowadays. Why doesn't some philanthropic foundation start a project to teach adults that middle age isn't the critical point of no return in life, but merely another bend in the road—and not a bad place to pause and have a picnic?

Long-Range U.S. Plans Preferred by Afghans

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — DuVal Stoaks, Arkansas-born chief engineer for the U. S. International Cooperation Administration on the Helmand Valley Authority project in Afghanistan, has returned to Washington for reassignment after 27 months in this remote, railroadless, mountain and dessert kingdom.

The story Stoaks brinks back is as good an example as any of how the United States is trying to help underdeveloped countries. And it throws light on the difference between Russia and American methods in trying to win over neutrals.

Young Stoaks was in Afghanistan when Khrushchev and Bulganin stopped off there on their way home from India.

The Russian gumshoes' pitch to sweeten up their prospect was, first to give King Mohammed Zahir Shah a personal airplane, second to give the capital of Kabul a 100-bed hospital. Then the Russians offered Afghanistan a two per cent 100-million dollar loan, to do with as they pleased.

The Russian - Proposed Projects were all short-range and flashy. They paved the Kabul streets for the first time in their ancient history. They worked out barter deals of Afghan wheat for Russian manufactures.

When the Afghan-Pakistan border was closed in the row over Rustoonistan, it shut off gasoline imports. The Commies moved in to take over the trade, trucking in supplies over mountain roads while building a pipeline. They built a small tank farm outside Kabul. It was aluminum painted and flood-lit at night. The natives go out just to see the bright lights.

In spite of all this showmanship, when the Afgham government came to buy a fleet of tank trucks, they didn't get Russian vehicles. They chose 500 American-made trucks.

All the short-range Russian projects are in marked contrast to long-range plans which the Afghans are trying to work out in cooperation with American interests.

In 1946 Afghanistan made a contract with Morrison-Knudsen to plan and build roads and dams. They spent the equivalent of 20 million dollars of their own to start work.

In 1949 and 1954 two U. S. Export-Import Bank loans for about $40 million more were obtained. A Helmand Valley Authority— HVA was modeled after the U. S. TVA.

Then in 1952 U. S. International Cooperative Administration was asked to come in and help on land settlement, education and training [illegible] HVA has a three million dollar budget for the country [illegible] going into HVA.

The idea is to take the more than a million nomad tribesmen from the disputed Pakistan border area and resettle them on 15 acre tracts where they can make a living.

Over 21,000 have already been settled on the first project, but it was a bad start. It was a desert oasis chosen by the Afghans against the advice of Morrison-Knudsen.

The Land Salted Up under forced irrigation and now has to be drained. Other relocation areas soon to be opened will be along the Helmand river, where conditions are much like Arizona's rich Salt River project.

Along with this, ICA technical advisers are cross-breeding scrubby, native mountain cattle with Brown Swiss, and the Afghan mountain sheep with American Columbia stock.

A team of 20 American educators has been moved in to help train native teachers. The plan is to open 40 new schools a year for the 12 million population, 95 per cent illiterate in a country roughly the size of Texas.

English is now compulsory second language in all schools—which annoys the Russians no end. But the smart Afghans found all the good textbooks were in English.

Afghanistan's only modern city, Lashkar Gah, has been built brand new from the ground up in the Helmand Valley. It's the only town in the country that has a sewage system and running water. Where the King visited there last year he exclaimed, "Just imagine! I can drink the water, merely by turning a faucet."

Manners Make Friends

If you have promised to drive your teen-age daughter and several of her friends some place, don't, at the last minute, decide to let your daughter drive instead. Parents who gave their consent to their daughters riding with you might not be happy to have a teen-age drive substituted.

When making arrangements for other people's children or teen-agers, always stick to original arrangements.

Learn Hawaiian Secret Of Pineapple Sherbet

THE LUSH TROPICS come into being on your dining table when you create this de luxe version of pineapple sherbet.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Mrs. Jean Clark of Honolulu, warm-hearted and hospitable always, visited our home recently. We talked enthusiastically about beautiful Hawaii. She gave us these two cooling and calorie-restrained recipes — the kind, she said, people in the islands always welcome.

Aloha Sherbet
(Makes 8 ½-cup servings)
(Calorie Count:
169 calories per serving)

One cup drained canned crushed pineapple, 1/3 cup orange concentrate, 1 cup light corn syrup, 1/3 cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/3 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder.

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine pineapple and orange concentrate. Stir in corn syrup. Pour mixture into refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm. Combine water and lemon juice in deep 1 quart bowl. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer 8 to 10 minutes or until stiff enough to hold peaks. Beat pineapple mixture until smooth. Fold in whipped nonfat dry milk. Return to freezing tray. Freeze until firm, about 4 to 5 hours.

Special serving note: For gala occasions, split a fresh pineapple in half, retaining the leaves with each half. Carefully remove the center of one-half of the pinapple, cutting into slender sticks. Fill the cavity of pineapple half with Aloha Sherbet. Garnish with reserved sticks and maraschino cherries or fresh fruit in season.

Frosty Grape Dessert
(Makes 8 ½-cup servings)
(Calorie Count:
92 calories per serving)

One cup water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup grape juice, chilled, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, chilled.

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Combine water, instant nonfat dry milk powder and sugar in small saucepan. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Pour a small amount of the combined grape and lemon juices into nonfat dry milk mixture; beat with a rotary beater, adding remainder of juice gradually. Pour into refrigerator tray. Freeze to a mush. Remove mixture to chilled bowl. Beat with a rotary beater until smooth, but not melted. Return to refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm, about 4 hours.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

French Foreign Minister Pineau has adopted far more completely than Secretary Dulles the view that Soviet Russia is becoming more tractable in international affairs because of both internal and external pressure.

The French official argues that this creates a situation in which the Russians can be newly approached for relaxation of tensions and establishment of coexistence.

He thinks France and her allies can make this approach without endangering their own close cooperation "as long as we are really convinced that international differences cannot be settled by war."

These are points at which his philosophy takes a wide swing away from the policies of the United States...

Two questions arise immediately:

1. What does coexistence mean if one party to it considers it temporary, a bridge of time in which the position of the other party can be undermined by all means except direct assault?

2. Who is really convinced that differences cannot be settled by war? The world in general has been convinced of that since long before Abraham Lincoln enunciated it. Yet he conducted one of the few wars ever fought really for the purpose of settling a difference. And no nation, even Germany, has displayed acquisitiveness such as that of Russia, not only under the Soviet, but from time immemorial.

Jersey Sheriff Hurt In Fall On Broken Window

JERSEYVILLE— Sheriff Herman C. Kirchner suffered a severe laceration of the forehead in an accident at his home on West Spruce street Tuesday afternoon.

Kirchner reported that one of the rooms of his residence became locked when the door was unintentionally closed. In order to get in the room and release the lock from the inside, Kirchner endeavored to force open one of the storm window shutters. He succeeded in accomplishing this but in so doing cracked the glass.

Kirchner got into the locked room through the window and unfastened the door. He then endeavored to close the storm shutter and in some manner slipped and fell against the broken pane of glass head foremost. A severe laceration was the result.

Kirchner resides close to the Jersey Community hospital and walked from his home to the operating room where he was given emergency treatment by nurses on duty to staunch the flow of blood.

Later, a physician arrived and took a number of stiches in the wound to close it. Kirchner then returned to his duties at the sheriff's office in the courthouse.

I call attention to the special program at the Western Illinois Fair at Griggsville on June 29 and do proclaim Friday, June 29, 1956, County Fair Day."

Gov. Stratton and several of his principal aids will join the annual opening day tour of Pike county communities that day and will later be a guest at a chicken fry sponsored by the fair board. Gasoline Thieves Busy In Jersey; Take 200 Gallons

JERSEYVILLE — The theft of two hundred gallons of gasoline from storage supplies and mechanized equipment tanks was reported Monday afternoon to the office of Sheriff Herman C. Kirchner in this city. The gas theft was committed on farm premises operated by Grover Sinclair northeast of Jerseyville.

The gasoline thief has supplanted the old time chicken thief in Jersey county in the capacity of trouble makers and scores of farm supplies are raided annually by the gas stealers.

The gas raid on the Sinclair premises took place on one of the farms operated by Sinclair where at present the house is unoccupied. The thieves are believed to have made several trips in getting the gasoline from the storage tank there and from the tanks of the mechanized equipment parked in the door yard of the place.

During the past week the farm of Melvin Day in the same neighborhood was looted of its gasoline supplies. In the Day case, the thieves obtained their gas by draining farm tractors and trucks. They used a hose to siphon out the gasoline, and apparently were frightened by some incident for they left and abandoned the hose they had been using.

Sheriff Kirchner stated that outbreaks of gasoline stealing have been occurring during the present season at widely separated neighborhoods. The first thefts of the season were committed mostly in the Delhi vicinity. Later the gas stealing occurred in the Fieldon and Western Jersey county locality.

"Now the scene of their activities seems to have shifted to the northeastern part of the county," Sheriff Kirchner stated.

It was reported Tuesday morning that many farmers are now standing guard at intervals over gasoline supplies on their premises.

THEATRE RODEO

DETROIT (AP)—Four traffic policemen were hastily called on for rodeo duty when Sadie, a normally placid mare, stampeded at the Norwest Theater.

Sadie was being led down the theater aisle to publicize a film. But the slippery floor and the yelling youngsters proved too much. Both Sadie and the children were on the verge of panic before the police arrived for the roundup.

CHANTRY tossed his head toward one man, a tough Texan. "Tell him to stay in sight, Emmett. Don't let him get around back."

Emmett laughed, then looked at the Texan. Chantry sensed the evil that passed between them. He put it in back of his mind knowing how serious it would be to dwell on the thought. There must be no distraction now. When he spoke it was in a cool, impersonal voice.

"I ain't got the least bit of respect for you, Emmett. Man who'd do what you're doing to a woman is rank. To do it to your sister's just too rotten to consider. Now that we understand each other, I got a deal to offer you."

Emmett stopped a few feet from him. His face had turned gradually darker, the only change that came over him. Chantry knew his proposition was useless before it was uttered.

"Let Jean's horses stay right where they are. You and your crew shake the dust of this range off your britches. I'll never follow. Neither will any other man in this country."

Emmett merely stared at him, his frown saddle hard. Chantry knew he was ready to make his move. From the edge of his glance he saw the Texan move toward him. Something came at him through the air. He ducked and felt relief well through him. He snorted, "Ah!" It was a sound deep in his throat as his hand yanked his gun upward.

Emmett's fist hit him in the belly in that same moment. It doubled him in two. As his face came forward Emmett's knee slammed up with terrible power. He began to lose his sense of consciousness, except he heard his gun explode at his side. A man screamed and vaguely Chantry suspected his shot had caught someone in the foot. Then another blow slammed across his temple. It carried the telling impact of a wagon spoke, something which he'd once taken when he was much younger. Again a fist went into his stomach. He was aware of Emmett closing in, of his blows right and then left. He went down. The contact on his back was the last he remembered.

FRANK saw the light suddenly strike the front window and door of the Yates place and drew in his crew. Jean's horses were here on the flat. Judging by the size of the string they were all here, including the bunch they had lost in the Signals. Only two men rode the fringes of the herd.

"Drury," he said softly, "haul yourself up on a bluff with Jean. You have five minutes to find a good place from which to shoot at the shanty. You'll keep them busy with your rifles. Swenson. Alex Jacobs and me'll take over the horses."

He thought a dark shade had crossed Jean's face, that she was about to object.

"No argument," he warned stiffly. "When this bunch starts to leg it I want those Texas gunslingers held in the shack. If you let them sneak out you can bury the three of us in Yates' canyon."

He slipped his saddle gun from its sheath handing it to Jean. He had placed an extra supply of cartridges in his pocket and now he passed over the slugs. Her gaze lingered on his face and he knew she was still reluctant. Drury stuck his horse with his heels.

"Let the ball open. I always wanted to lay on my belly and sprinkle lead at lit-up windows."

Swenson saw Frank come aground and nodded his mute approval. If they kept to the blind side of their horses as they led them toward the shack, the night guards might miss them among the herd until too late.

When they reached the outer fringe of horses Frank stopped.

"You two snake in from the left. Take that other fellow. I'll tackle this one. Shoot if you've got to, but try to hold off till Drury gets into place."

The string had not yet quieted and Frank let the black mix freely with the other Rafter C horses. Cash's night guard was riding slowly toward him and this cut down on the work required of Frank. But he hoped soberly this wouldn't throw off the timing of the others. The man was less than 50 feet from him, he recognized him now as Marigny, a Texan. If there had been a little more light Marigny would never have missed the saddled black.

When he was about 30 feet from the guard the herd began to spook. A few horses on the other side of the pasture began to trumpet. Marigny lifted in his stirrups.

• • •

FRANK vaulted into saddle dragging the black around. From across the flat a shot banged loudly. Frank hung low against the black's neck, knowing that Marigny's interest would be across the flat. Driving his heels into the black's flanks the big horse quickly cut between the other animals, reaching the guard's side. By now the herd was on the run.

Frank's pistol struck Marigny behind the ear.

Frank was behind the string. He lifted his pistol firing two shots into the air. At the same time a rebel yell broke from his lips. He had heard an answering yell from across the flat but had been unable to divide his attention. He found both men now quartering in behind the running bunch. The kid waved to him, a vague gesture against the gray sky.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CLEVELAND, Ohio—(NEA)—Like his Indians, Henry Greenberg would like time to catch his breath.

And if Hank Greenberg has his way, there will be changes in next year's American League schedule to be certain it happens. He has written Will Harridge, the league president, listing several sound reasons why the top-flight Yankees and Red Sox should not be permitted to "gang up on the Indians."

"The schedule as it now stands is not only unfair, but it can be disastrous to a club shy two pitchers as we were when we had to play 14 games in 10 days, all against New York and Boston," Hank snaps.

* * *

"It's just plain bad business. It's not good for the league to have the Indians drop eight or 10 games behind this early in the going," Greenberg stresses.

Greenberg wants the have-nots—the Orioles and Senators — spaced between clashes with the league's muscle boys. This season the Tribe was caught with Herb Score hospitalized and Art Houtteman in the dugout with a sore arm. A breather was badly needed.

"Next year's schedule is drawn up now," Greenberg says. "So I'm writing Harridge about it right now. We don't want this to happen again next year."

"Sure, the schedule maker will contend that he can't be expected to pick the stronger clubs à year in advance, but he can at least use a little common sense. As a matter of fact, the first and second divisions of the American League have become fairly well established in the last few years—New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Boston and Detroit, then Kansas City, Baltimore and Washington."

It was pointed out to Hank that the advantages and disadvantages of the schedule even up. In late July, for example, the Indians close an eastern swing in Washington and Baltimore and then return home to play the same Orioles and Senators.

* * *

"That's true as far as the standings are concerned," he countered. "But it's not good for the gate, especially when you are being knocked off by the better equipped clubs.

"People around Cleveland who want to see the Indians play the Yankees may also want to see us tackle the Red Sox. They should be given a little time between drinks. Playing the Yankees and Red Sox on the road and then right back at home becomes monotonous to the fans.

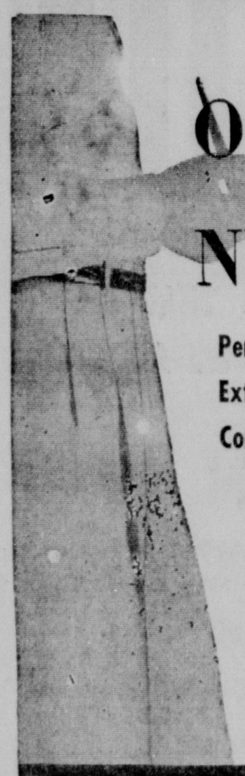

"Years ago, mileage was important in making up a schedule, but no longer. Clubs now fly the longer hops, so what difference does it make—you fly 30 minutes longer."

Greenberg is neither upset nor satisfied about the trade that sent Larry Doby to Chicago for Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby.

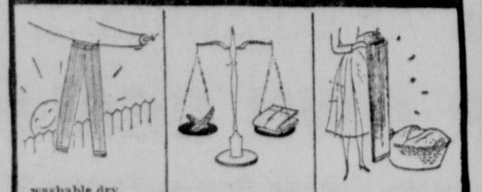

"Doby hasn't done much for the White Sox and Carrasquel and Busby have treated us the same way," he says. "It's too early yet to tell which side, if any, got the best of that swap."

Hank Greenberg can't do anything about that. But he does intend to do something about the schedule.

Robinson Has One Day Left To Win Starting Berth

NEW YORK (AP)—With only one day of voting remaining, Cincinnati's Frank Robinson is making a belated bid to take over the National League's starting left field position in the balloting for the All-Star baseball game at Washington July 10.

Rip Repulski, one of three St. Louis Cardinals leading in the voting, has been ahead from the beginning. Robinson, strong contender for rookie of the year honors, has now moved within 818 votes of the Redbird pacesetter.

Robinson must overcome the deficit by midnight Friday when the balloting by the fans ends. The latest figures were released Thursday by Commissioner Ford Frick's office.

In the American League, only one position is unstable. At third base, George Kell of Baltimore has maintained a slim edge over Detroit's Ray Boone and will capture the starting assignment if the Tiger infielder cannot overcome the 1,395-point lead.

Two Youngsters Win Semi-Final Matches Thursday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Two young competitors, Meriam Bailey of Palatine and Barbara Slobe of Waukegan, advanced Thursday into the 36-hole final of the Illinois women's amateur golf tournament.

Miss Bailey, 18-year-old Northwestern University sophomore, stopped the bid of Ruth More of Pekin for her fifth title by taking an impressive 5 and 3 semi-final victory. Miss Bailey was in front all the way and held a 4 up lead at the end of the first nine.

Miss Slobe, 16-year-old high school student, gained Friday's championship match with a 1 up win on the 19th hole over Vernie Pico, college student from Galesburg.

Miss Pico blew a three foot putt on the 18th green allowing Miss Slobe to tie the contest. On the 19th, the Waukegan youngster closed the match with a par 4 while Miss Pico was three putting for a bogey 5.

The Bailey girl, who was tournament medalist opening day, scored a 1 up decision that dethroned defending champion Lois Drafke of Lagrange in the Thursday morning quarterfinal round.

Miss Slobe earlier in the day defeated Greta Leone of Chicago, 4 and 3, to set the stage for her sparkling tilt with Miss Pico.

To reach the semi-finals, Miss Pico captured a 1 up win from Mary Tully of Antioch and Miss More posted an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Virginia Dennehy of Lake Forest.

DALE LONG QUALIFIES FOR HICKOK AWARD

NEW YORK (AP) — Dale Long, Pittsburgh's slugging first baseman, Thursday qualified for the S. Rae Hickok Award by winning the May competition in the "professional athlete of the year" balloting.

Long, who hit home runs in eight consecutive games for a major league record, defeated Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in a two-man race, 198 points to 166 in voting by sports writers and sportscasters.

Milwaukee Takes 6th Straight Victory By Downing Pirates 7-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Milwaukee's National League leaders turned loose a smashing attack Thursday to thump Pittsburgh's collapsing Pirates 7-2 and maintain an unbeaten record in six games under new Manager Fred Haney.

Altogether, the Braves blasted 13 safeties with Del Rice the big slugger on a triple, two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. Bill Bruton homered, Hank Aaron and Danny O'Connell also hit triples, as did Bill Virdon of the Pirates.

It was No. 6 in a row for the Pirates, too, who have been unable to win since dropping a twin bill to the St. Louis Cards Sunday. The Braves followed the Cardinals into town with a clean sweep of the four-game series here.

Adding to the Pirate problem of a short-handed pitching staff, the defense started to come apart at the seams Thursday, with three errors. Manager Bobby Bragan shook up his infield at the start of the game, benching shortstop Dick Groat and sending the O'Brien twins, Eddie and Johnny, to short and second.

O'Connell's double and Aaron's triple put the Braves in front in the first and they never were headed. Bruton chipped in with his homer in the third and Milwaukee got two more runs in the fourth, scoring on a bloop single by O'Connell. The three in the seventh were the crushers.

Zimmer's 9th Inning Double Gives Dodgers 9-8 Win Over Cards

Editor's note: Due to wire difficulties, complete game totals and box scores weren't available for publication.

Shortstop Don Zimmer's double in the bottom of the ninth inning with two outs drove in Sandy Amoros with the winning run to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 9-8 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the rubber game of the series.

Jackie Collum, who had relieved starter Herman Wehmeir, ran into trouble in the Dodger ninth as Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson hit back to back singles. Manager Freddie Hutchinson yanked Collum and replaced him with the veteran Murray Dickson to face the ever tough Roy Campanella.

Campanella worked the count to two balls and two strikes and on the fifth pitch lined a shot into the center field bleachers for a three run homer to tie the game after the Cardinals had taken the lead in the eighth inning. Campanella also hit another three-run homer for the Brooks in the second inning.

After Campanella's smash, Dickson walked pinch-hitter Sandy Amoros and Junior Gilliam kept the rally going with a single into right centerfield with Amoros going to third on the hit. Jim Konstanty was summoned from the bullpen to take over for Murray Dickson and Don Zimmer, subbing for PeeWee Reese drilled a Konstanty offering against the scoreboard in right centerfield to win the game for Brooklyn. Ken Lehman was credited with the victory after replacing Clem Labine in the ninth frame.

Stan Musial accounted for four Cardinal runs with two two-run homers in the third and sixth innings. Musial and Dark had four hits apiece for the Cardinals. Trailing 5-4 going into the top of the eighth inning, Al Dark singled with one out, Musial filed deep to Furillo in right for two outs and Brooks pitcher Don Bessent walked Wally Moon. The next Cardinal batter, Bobby Morgan, worked the count to three and two and on the payoff pitch, Morgan blooped a double into center field to score Dark and Moon who were off and running with the pitch to give the Cardinals a 6-5 lead. Bobby Del Greco gave the Redbirds another run with a double to the left field corner, scoring Morgan to give the Cardinals their third run of the inning.

The Cardinals pushed across another tally in the ninth as Dark singled with two outs, Musial got his fourth hit of the game and Ken Boyer, the next batter, drilled a single into right field to give the Cardinals a 8-5 lead. However, Brooklyn proved the old ball game isn't over till the final out is made as they rallied for four runs in their final turn at bat on three singles, a walk, a home run and a double to take a 9-8 victory.

Marlene Hagge Takes 2-Stroke Lead At Detroit

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Marlene Bauer Hagg, Asheville, N.C., winner of the last two tournaments on the women's pro golf circuit, got off to a fast start in the second annual Ladies PGA Championships with a record-breaking 69 Thursday. It was good for a two-stroke lead in the first round.

She clipped six strokes off women's par at Forest Lake Country Club and lowered the course record for women by two shots.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., seeking the only feminine golf title which she has never won, pulled into second place at 71. Another stroke back at 72 was Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga.

Mrs. Hagge, who has won 4 of the 13 previous tourneys this year on the LPGA tour, booked five birdies and an eagle two on the 6,415-yard course which has par of 36-39-75.

Fred Hawkins Captures Lead In Philly Golf Meet

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fred Hawkins, an El Paso, Tex., pro with a deadly putter, finished with a burst of birdies Thursday and carded a 3-under-par 65 to take the first-round lead in the $20,000 Philadelphia Daily News Open Golf Tournament.

Hawkins, co-chairman of the PGA Tournament Committee, was only one stroke over the record for the tricky, par 68 Cobbs Creek course.

He birdied the final three holes for a returning nine of 32 against an outgoing 33.

His score was 7 strokes better than the 72 turned in by Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the newly crowned U.S. Open champion from Dallas.

One stroke back of Hawkins were Bill Casper, Jr., the early pacesetter from Chula Vista, Calif., and Gay Brewer, Jr., of Cincinnati with 66s.

English Fans Get 1st Look At Hogan's Fade Shot

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) English fans got their first look Thursday at the most famous fade shot in golf—Ben Hogan's.

The mighty Hogan—still called "Little Ben" in England and the "Wee Mon" in Scotland although he is 5 feet 10—was hitting his first shots in England.

He was on the practice tee at Eentworth Club preparing, along with Sam Snead, for Canada Cup matches beginning there Sunday.

As usual practically every shot Hogan hit faded just a few feet, not enough to call them slices, but just fades.

Snead and Hogan tee up as a team for the first time Sunday. They will play with the English twosome of Harry Weetman and Ken Bousfield in a four-ball match.

Golfers from 27 other nations start going off at 10-minute intervals. The 72-hole tournament is a team affair at stroke play with the lowest aggregate scores by men from the same nation determining the winning team.

A single round will be played Monday and 36 holes Tuesday.

QUESTION: Milwaukee's Charlie Root walked onto the field to replace Pitcher Lou Sleater. He waved to the bullpen to bring in Ernie Johnson. Then the Braves' bench changed its mind. They yelled to Root to leave Sleater in as he had called him into the game. But he was overruled by the plate umpire. Why?
—Bob McAllister.

Answer: In this case, the base umpire was correct. Once the pitcher is wave in, he must come in. The plate umpire probably didn't see this. However, the plate umpire had a case, too. Technically, all substitutes should be called in through him.

Q. When a batter and pitcher both are ready and the batter wishes to step out, is he supposed to request time from the umpire or does his action of leaving the box constitute automatic time out? —W. Landry.

A. He must request time from the umpire.

Chisox Trip Orioles 1-0 As Both Teams Collect 1 Hit Apiece

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—A battle of one-hitters went to lefty Jack Harshman of the second-place Chicago White Sox Thursday as the only Pale Hose hit, Nellie Fox' double, scored a first-inning run for a 1-0 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

Gus Triandos' seventh-inning double to left was the lone Baltimore hit.

The luckless loser was ex-Soxer Connie Johnson, who left for a pinch hitter in the eighth, and was replaced by George Zuverink.

The one-hitter for each team tied a major league record held by several other teams.

Harshman faced 32 batters. He struck out four and walked four.

The victory moved the Sox to within five games of the idle first-place New York Yankees and set the stage for the Yanks' crucial four-game invasion beginning Friday night.

A game-opening walk to Jim Rivera, the first of three Johnson issued, and Rivera's theft of second set the stage for Fox' big blow, a smash to center.

Harshman's great chore raised to 20 the number of consecutive scoreless innings he has pitched.

Triandos' lead-off double in the seventh was nullified when Harshman nailed him at third on Hal Smith's attempted sacrifice.

It was Harshman's fourth victory against four defeats.

Johnson, who struck out 7 and faced 26 batters in his seven-inning stint, suffered his fourth defeat against two victories.

Three men got to second against Harshman, who was aided by some fine defensive play. This especially was true in the fifth, when a walk to Smith and Luis Aparicio's fumble of Jim Pyburn's pop fly put Orioles on second and first with one out.

Willie Miranda then bounced to third and Fred Hatfield started a double play in which Fox made a great relay to first in the process of being tumbled by the onrushing Pyburn.

In the sixth, Harshman got wild and walked Hoot Evers and George Kell successively with two out, but then struck out Bob Nieman.

Cleveland Beats Boston On Wynn's Four-Hitter, 5-0

CLEVELAND (AP)—Early Wynn, the Cleveland Indians' knuckleball pitcher, blanked the Boston Red Sox 5-0 Thursday on four singles for his second shutout of the year.

The Indians hung the defeat on 24-year-old Tom Brewer, who had whipped the Clevelanders seven straight times since May 1, 1955.

Brewer was tagged for four runs in the third on four singles, a walk and a wild pitch. Gene Woodling homered in the fourth inning with none on base.

Wynn allowed no one past second base. Jim Piersall bunted a single in the first inning over the head of first baseman Vic Wertz and beat out another bunt in the third.

The victory gave the third-place Indians a two-game cushion over the fourth-place Bostonians.

A's Climb Out Of Cellar With 15-6 Win Over Nats

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics put a dent in their home field jinx Thursday with a 15-hit barrage that demolished the Washington Senators 15-6 and lifted the A's out of the American League cellar.

It was the seventh victory at home for the A's against 19 defeats.

Jose Saniago got credit for the win, his first against two losses, although he was chased from the mound in the seventh by Harmon Killebrew's grand slam homer.

The defeat was pinned on Dean Stone who yielded seven runs before he was relieved by Camilo Pascual in the second.

Joe DeMaestri and Gus Zernial hit one-on home runs for the A's to help pile up the score. Karl Olson homered for the Senators.

OLD CROP CORN FUTURES UP ON BOARD OF TRADE

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP) — A reversal in government policy on selling corn in the domestic market sent old crop corn futures up on the Board of Trade Thursday.

Gains in these old crop months ranged to about two cents at one time. The finish was down a bit from the top. Oats and new crop corn scored modest advances.

July soybeans broke more than five cents, partly reflecting disappointment at the failure of expected Greek buying of soybean oil to come through. This upset new crop beans. Wheat and rye held steady.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ¼ higher, corn ½-1¾ higher, oats ⅜-⅞ higher, rye ¼ lower to ½ higher, soybeans 1½-5¼ lower and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Touching off the buying in old crop corn was an announcement by the Chicago Commodity Credit Corp. office that it would not offer No. 4 and No. 5 grade corn for sale at market prices on the domestic market. This reversed the policy set Tuesday, when the CCC said it would offer such grain.

July soybeans broke in the last hour and the finish was at the day's lows. Cash soybean oil advanced but buying of bean oil by Greece, expected for several days, was not confirmed.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected rails and convertibles moved up in a mixed bond market Thursday in quiet trading. Utilities, industrials and investment quality issues were steady.

U. S. government bonds continued to ease in slow trading on the over-the-counter market.

Corporate volume increased to $3,300,000 par value on the Big Board from $2,610,000 Wednesday.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (AP)—The best advance and liveliest trading since June 12 was staged by the stock market Thursday.

The medium-sized rally was a refreshing change from the small trading swings that marked the previous six sessions.

Key stocks went ahead from fractions to around $2., closing a bit below their best of the session. Some issues stepped well beyond this range.

Business and economic news of an encouraging nature gave confidence a lift, according to brokers.

The motors enjoyed more active attention in the early part of the session as news from Detroit buoyed stocks in this division. Chemicals and metals also were favorites but the upturn swept all segments of the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.00 to $182.20 with the industrials up $1.70, the rails up $1.10 and the utilities unchanged.

Volume at 1,820,000 shares compared with 1,670,000 Wednesday and was the highest since June 12.

Prices also were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 710,000 shares compared with 680,000 Wednesday.

Conviction Of Marie Natvig Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals, dividing 2-1, today upheld the perjury conviction of turnabout government witness Marie Natvig.

Mrs. Natvig, Miami Beach, Fla., grandmother, was convicted in May 1955 of lying when she denied telling FBI agents and communications commission representatives she had been an Ohio Communist in the 1930s and knew Edward O. Lamb in that connection.

Mrs. Natvig was called as a government witness in prolonged hearings on whether Lamb's license to operate WICU-TV, Erie, Pa., should be renewed.

Examiner Herbert Sharfman, of the Communications Commission, who conducted the hearings, held on Dec. 7, 1955 that Lamb, Toledo lawyer - industrialist and Erie newspaper publisher, was innocent of allegations that he once knowingly associated with Communists. Sharfman recommended renewal of Lamb's TV license. The examiner's recommendation has not been acted upon by the commission.

Judge John A. Danaher, speaking for the majority of the appeals court, said it was "overwhelmingly established" that in February 1955, when Mrs. Natvig recanted earlier testimony against Lamb, she "had perjured herself with respect to what she had said the previous September."

In her earlier testimony Mrs. Natvig linked Lamb with Communist activities. But when she took the stand later she repudiated the earlier testimony and said a communications commission representative had "coerced" her into lying against Lamb.

Judge Danaher said it is wholly immaterial whether or not Mrs. Natvig had ever been a Communist or had consorted with Lamb or had attended meetings with him. Danaher added:

"The case turned, not on what was the fact, but on what, she said was the fact.

He added that if at her meetings in September 1954, with FBI and commission representatives she had not told them what they later testified she had said, "the government through the federal Communications Commission might not have gone forward with the hearings. It may reasonably be supposed that if she had not made such statements . . . she would not have been called as a witness before Hearing Examiner Sharfman."

Judge Danaher said the two judges composing the majority are satisfied there is no merit whatever in Mrs. Natvig's claim that two FBI agents "presented" her as a witness knowing that she would testify falsely. Judge Danaher wrote that it is clear Mrs. Natvig herself approached the agents in Miami.

Judge Charles Fahy concurred in Judge Danaher's opinion but added: "Nevertheless, one might well express the hope for leniency toward appallant (Mrs. Natvig)."

Judge David L. Bazelon dissented, saying the government extracted from prosecution witnesses "a wealth of irrelevant, but prejudicial, detail as to other and additional statements made by the appellant."

Bazelon said the admission of this testimony was an error warranting a new trial.

ILLINOIS FARMERS TO GET HIGHER RYE, OATS, BARLEY PROPS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois farmers will receive higher price supports on 1956 oats, barley and rye than they received last year, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said Wednesday.

Oats will increase 4 cents a bushel, barley 9 cents and rye 11 cents. Increases are based on the May 28 federal agricultural law which establishes support at 76 per cent of parity, the April 15 figure.

With the increase oats will range from 65 to 69 cents a bushel in Illinois. Last year oats ranged from 61 to 65 cents.

Declines To Take Appointment As Kentucky Senator

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A Democratic appointee to the U.S. Senate has declined the post and the Republican party has delayed selection of a senatorial nominee for Kentucky's November election.

Joseph J. Leary, 49-year-old Democratic leader, was appointed to the Senate Monday by Gov. A. B. Chandler. In announcing his decision, Leary Wednesday told reporters "a sincere desire to bring peace to the ranks of the Democratic party in Kentucky" had led him to consider the senatorship.

Leary, who has served as a speech writer and adviser to both Chandler and Sen. Earle C. Clements, said he was convinced, under the circumstances which now exist, that he couldn't accomplish his peace objective.

Kentucky's Democratic party is split between two factions, one headed by Chandler and the other by Clements and former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby. The Democratic State Central Committee Tuesday named Wetherby as the party's nominee for the unexpired term of the late Sen. Alben W. Barkley in the November election. The committee is controlled by forces friendly to Clements.

Chandler said he would try to fill Barkley's seat "in a reasonable time."

The Republican State Central Executive Committee will meet in Lexington Saturday, but Chairman Dewey Daniel of Hazard announced Wednesday the party's nominee for Barkley's seat will not be chosen then. It had been reported previously that the nominee would be announced at that time with Dr. Elmer E. Gabbard of Buckhorn expected to be the choice.

Dutch Deny Faith Healer Row Slows Forming Cabinet

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Premier Willem Drees has denied that the furor over a woman faith healer's reported influence on Queen Juliana is delaying formation of a new Dutch government.

The Socialist premier told a news conference some foreign publications had carried a report that a Cabinet could not be formed "unless the Queen modified her personal relations" with Miss Greet Hofmans' the 61-year-old faith healer who has prayed over the monarch's nearly blind youngest daughter.

"In reality," Drees declared, "the formation of the Cabinet will not be influenced by that in any way."

He added he was aiming at a new coalition government in which the nation's five largest political parties would participate. The Communists would be excluded.

The Premier, whose Labor party won the largest number of seats in last week's general election, conferred Wednesday with leaders of the four other parties. He said he expects them to reply next Monday whether they will join in the new government.

Drees' statement to newsmen was his second denial in a week that Juliana's friendship with the faith healer had any effect on Dutch government policy. Last Friday he emphatically rejected rumors that the Queen might abdicate or that she and her husband, Prince Bernhard, might get a divorce or separate.

"As for contributing to front groups, I wouldn't deny that—I'm here to tell the truth."

He acknowledged—or said "I don't recall—I wouldn't deny it"—that he affiliated in past years with a long list of groups the committee said had been cited as Communist fronts.

"In those times I did support a number of things that I would not support now," he said.

Then the question came for Miller to name others who had been at what he said he understood to be meetings of Communist writers in 1939 or 1940.

"I could not use the name of another person and bring trouble on him," Miller said. "I ask you not to ask me that question. I'll tell you anything about myself . . . My conscience will not permit me to use the name of another person."

Rep. Scherer (R-Ohio) said he thought the refusal was "legal" contempt, but the committee did not pursue the question.

The State Department said Thursday that Miller must file a non-Communist affidavit before he can be given a passport. Press officer Joseph Reap told newsmen that when Miller applied for a passport about two years ago he was asked to submit a non-Communist affidavit but "didn't bother" to do it.

Elections Won't Alter Results

Gudmundsson is leader of the Progressive party. The Progressives spurred Parliament to decide March 27 to end U.S. occupation of the Keflavik base.

This provoked a split in Premier Thors' coalition government. The Progressives withdrew from the Cabinet, forcing new elections.

Thors' forces recognize the importance of the anti-Communist defenses of this volcanic island on the fringe of the Arctic Circle. They are shocked at the thought of losing 12 million dollars of business a year if American forces are withdrawn. But they are afraid to put their party in jeopardy by saying this publicly, for Icelandic nationalism is high. So they have not met the issue head on.

The same is true of some Progressives. Moderate members say privately the Progressives created the issue as a political maneuver and never intended to push the "go home" campaign to a conclusion.

Three other parties also are demanding U.S. withdrawal. They are the Communists, Labor and National Defense parties.

Under a 1951 agreement with Iceland, the United States has spent 150 million dollars in building and maintaining the huge air base at Keflavik, three radar stations and other installations. It is keeping an Army force of Battalion size here, along with an Air Force fighter squadron, an air-sea rescue unit, a Military Air Transport ferry force and a few supporting units.

$30,000 Asked By Jacksonville In NESCO Suit

The City of Jacksonville has filed suit against the New York Shipbuilding Corp., in Morgan county circuit court, asking judgment of $30,000 for unpaid electric energy furnished, it is claimed, to the Nesco manufacturing plant.

The suit was filed by Robinson, Foreman, Rammelkamp and Bradney, special counsel for the city, and City Attorney Walter R. Bellatti. The council last Monday night instructed the attorneys to take legal action to collect the alleged debt.

It is set forth that between Jan. 1, 1953, and June 1, 1955, the city sold and delivered to the defendant 1,350,000 KWH for which the defendant promised to pay the plaintiff under a contract which had been in existence several years.

Merger of the National Enameling Co. with the New York Shipbuilding Corp., on April 23, 1954, was mentioned in the suit.

The council's decision to bring suit was reached after a series of conferences with Nesco and the New York Shipbuilding Corp. officials.

Murrayville Boy Badly Hurt In Truck-Car Crash

David Osborne, 16, son of Mrs. Mae Osborne of Murrayville was seriously injured at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning on Route 67 south of Jacksonville, when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck near the Midwest Order Buyers.

The truck driven by William Brown of Hillview was traveling north and attempted to turn into the Midwest Order Buyers, when an automobile driven by Raymond Howard of Murrayville traveling in the same direction struck the rear of the truck.

Osborne was taken to Passavant Memorial hospital where his condition was said to be serious. The extent of his injuries has not been determined pending X-ray examination.

Missouri Synod Lutherans Fight Worker Shortage

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)— The Mission-minded Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church grappled today with a major manpower shortage in its ranks of ministers and teachers.

The two-million member synod, holding its triennial convention here, has set its sight on establishing 135 new churches annually instead of the present 120.

Also close to the hearts of synod leaders is the goal of enrolling 50 per cent of the synod's children in its parochial schools. The figure now is 37 per cent, one of the highest in Lutheranism.

Delegates underlined their concern over the manpower problem Wednesday by approving the principle of assigning no full-time minister to congregations with less than 100 baptized members. The smaller congregations would be served by pastors of larger groups.

The synod also pushed through a resolution calling for creation of a committee to screen congregation requests for full-time ministers. Until now, the synod's assignment board has assumed that whenever a minister is requested, an urgent need is there.

Synod committees today began exploring a wide range of manpower needs with the idea of forging an overall program during the next 10 days to satisfy pulpit and classroom demands through 1970.

Girls State Election Yields 'Federalists' Control In Legislature

In a hotly contested election on the MacMurray College campus here, the Federalist party Thursday morning won slim controlling margins in both houses of the Illini Girls State legislature.

Seventeen Federalists and 16 Nationalists gained seats in the house of representatives. In the senate, the Federalist margin was greater — 7 to 3.

The 466 teen-age delegates to Girls State are divided into two mock political parties—Federalist and Nationalist — duplicating the structure of the two-party governmental system common in the United States.

Mock conventions, caucuses and elections are conducted then to teach the girls the principles of state and local government through experience. The annual project is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Other activities Thursday included the filing of petitions for "state" and "county" offices, a review of the study of government to date, a quiz on election procedure and the opening session of the house of representatives.

Officers of Girls State's 24 "cities" were elected Wednesday.

Luncheon Guests

Thursday noon, last year's state officers of Girls State (who've returned this year to fill high administrative posts until they're replaced in a "statewide" election late this week), delegates who are daughters of Kiwanians, and several Girls State adult leaders were luncheon guests of the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club at its regular meeting in the Dunlap Hotel.

Friday morning a primary election for selection of candidates for county and state offices will be conducted, and the two political parties will elect state central committeemen.

Named To Legislature

Elected Thursday to the Girls State house of representatives were:

Mary Jo Brodd of Andover, Gwendolyn Hippen of Forrest, Helen Jean Endicott of Omaha, Marcia Higginson of Girard, Lela Potter of Manteno, Carol Philippe of Mahomet, Shirley Rae Roll of Carrollton.

Riesel Warns Of Power Of Leftist Labor Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel says leftist labor leader Harry Bridges holds the power to cut the strategic "lifeline" between San Francisco and Honolulu, and to close both ports.

Bridges is West Coast boss of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, an independent group. The government has failed in its efforts to deport him to his native Australia.

Riesel, a crusader against labor racketeering, recently was totally blinded by acid hurled by an unidentified and as yet unapprehended person.

Interviewed by the staff of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Tuesday in New York, his sworn testimony was made public pri orto a public hearing to inquire into what the subcommittee called Communist activities on the waterfront.

Riesel, who writes a column for the New York Daily Mirror and other newspapers, has urged Congress to investigate what he called Communist and racketeering influences in the labor movement.

Two of the witnesses called to testify before the subcommittee were listed as Jeff Kibre of Washington and Irving Velson of New York, both described as "waterfront union officials."

Riesel said Bridges' control over his union puts him in a position to shut down the ports of Honolulu and San Francisco at will.

He testified that Bridges also has "influence" in the port of New Orleans, but has been balked so far in attempts to extend his rule to New York and other East Coast ports. Riesel said Bridges had worked through Kibre, Velson and others in his efforts to gain control of the East Coast docks.

"You think that if we trace the activities of Harry Bridges in the various ports that we would have a good idea of what Communist activities on the waterfront are?" asked Robert Morris, subcommittee counsel.

"Of course," replied Riesel, who described Bridges as "a champion of Communist and Soviet causes."

Bridges has failed to extend his control to the East Coast, Riesel said, "due to the intelligence of the working longshoremen who who have many times rejected communism, who have helped in the boycott of Soviet imports, and who would fight whoever they could against infiltration by pro-Communist forces."

Says Soviet UN Officials Tried To Make Him Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Russian army captain now on the staff of Columbia University says two Soviet officials at United Nations tried to pressure him into spying activities.

Michael Shatov, 40, an archivist at Columbia, named Aleksei Petukov, director of the U. N. technical assistance program for Asia and the Far East, and Rostislav Shapovalev, second secretary in the Russian U. N. mission.

Shatov, who refused to say where he now lives with his wife and 11-year-old son, made the accusations at a news conference Wednesday in the offices of the American Committee for Liberation of Bolshevism.

He said both U. N. officials approached him frequently on the Columbia campus in the past two months, making the first contact April 9, two days after the sudden and mysterious departure of five Russian seamen to Moscow.

Shatov told reporters the two diplomats "hinted" frequently that they could discredit him with American security agencies through various means.

Shatov never has publicly disclosed how or when he reached this country.

JHS Minstrel
When a Senior

High School Graduate at 16

Eighteen year old Wilma Ethel Dobbs, "Miss Jacksonville", is blessed with that rare combination beauty and brains. She has just completed her sophomore year at Illinois College where she is majoring in speech and drama. Her ambition is to enter the field of television after graduation from college.

Wilma was born Oct. 26, 1937 on a farm near Sinclair. Her parents are W. S. and Ada Burnett Dobbs. She has one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Wanda D. Ward of Jacksonville, Wayne S. Dobbs of Fort Worth, Texas and Wendell S. Dobbs of Del Rio, Texas.

In addition to her well developed talents in drama and music her hobbies include swimming and golf.

Her first formal education was received at the Union Grove school near Sinclair. She completed the first two years of school in half the alloted time. When she was 7 the family moved to Jacksonville to their present home, 286 Sandusky street and she entered the third grade at Lafayette school. During grade school days she became a Brownie Scout, took piano lessons and starting her dancing instruction.

She became a member of the First Baptist church here on Easter Sunday at the age of 12 and has been active in church work there consistantly.

A freshman in the Jacksonville high school at the age of 12 did not deter Wilma from activity. Right off the bat she participated in the school Minstrel and May Festival. The Vespers, Treble Clef club and voice lessons were taken in stride by this honor pupil whose many outside activities did not detract from her scholastic standing. She continued throughout her high school years in Minstrels and music activities, also in dramatic projects having a part in Pink Magic during her junior year and January Thaw when a senior. When she graduated, 12th scholastically in her class of 173, she was one of the group at JHS initiated as charter members of the National Honor Society.

Enrolling at the age of 16 at Illinois College she started out under an industrial engineering course, transferring at the start of her sophomore year to her present course, speech and drama.

As a first year student in college she became a member of the Alpha Eta Pi, freshman literary society which she served as president. She held the leading female role in the first dramatic production that year, Nick o' the Woods and later the same school year was in the cast of The Would-Be Gentleman at the college.

During the spring of her freshman year she was initiated into Chi Beta literary society, for upper classmen and again had a leading part in an hour long skit presented by the Chi Beta All School party, a highlight social event of the year.

During the summer of 1955 she was one of the entrants in the Miss Lifeline contest when Jacksonville celebrated its completion of a pipeline to the Illinois river to assure adequate water supply. Of the 33 young ladies entered the future Miss Jacksonville was one of the top ten finalists chosen.

During the second year at Illinois College she took part in two plays, one of which was The Adding Machine and during the year was also initiated into the Hilltoppers, dramatic group on the campus.

She participated in the homecoming celebration last fall and again took a leading part in the Chi Beta annual school party.

Leaving the city Friday afternoon for Wood River with Miss Jacksonville and her mother will be Robert Duncan, past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that sponsored the first Miss Jacksonville Festival in this city, Gilbert Todd, Jr., Junior Davidsmeyer and Milt Hocking, all members of the local Jaycees. Vic Mosley, Jaycee, was chairman of the local Festival and Gib Todd, assistant.

There will be no special judging Friday evening at the State Contest with a banquet being the only social obligation on the program. Saturday will be crowded with the judging, interviews, etc. that go before the announcement that evening of the identity of Miss Illinois.

At eighteen, Wilma is five foot, two and one-half inches tall, has warm brown eyes and medium blonde hair. Her weight steadies around the 115 mark and with these attributes the very best is extended to the city's first authentic Miss Jacksonville to be entered in the nationally recognized Miss America contest of Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Bible School Commencement At Meredosia

MEREDOSIA — Sunday night commencement exercises for students at the summer Bible school were held at the Baptist church.

After the classes marched in, Mrs. Clarence Bunch, school principal, read the call to worship, followed by the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy;" Motto, in unison; Hymn, "I Would be True;" Prayer; Hymn, "Father In Heaven;" Pledge to the American flag; "America the Beautiful;" Salute to the Christian flag; Hymn, "Lead On O King Eternal;" Pledge to the Bible; Hymn, "Break Thou the Bread of Life;" Junior and intermediate classes, Psalm 24; Anthem, "Lift Up Your Heads;" Offering and Hymn, "Bless Thou the Gifts."

The nursery, beginners', and primary classes sang a group of songs and recited their memory verses.

The junior department presented a Bible sword drill and memory verses.

The intermediates had studied the book of Acts, and told also of the books and divisions of the Old Testament. They gave their memory work and sang, "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in You," and "Thank You Lord for Saving My Soul." One of the boys ended this part of the services with a prayer. Miss Martha Chapman sang "Forgive."

Rev. Wm. S. Stevens of Canton delivered a short message.

There were 52 enrolled in the Bible school, with an average daily attendance of 50. The teacher for the nursery class was Mrs. Gladys Potter; for beginners, Mrs. John Hughes; for primary, Mrs. James McDaniel; for intermediates, Mrs. Eugene Beams. They were assisted by Mrs. Dan Perry, Mrs. Clifford Jockisch and Mrs. Gene Kibler.

Featured was a display of handwork made during the school—whatnots, flower pots of decorated coffee cans, rickrack earrings, letter holders, scrapbooks of memory verses to be given to some hospital or orphanage. The youngest pupils made small articles which they took home each day.

Dr. Corinne Bruckner and her mother, Elizabeth Bruckner, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heitbrink.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rice of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, arrived to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Bertha Rice.

Names of chaperones making more than one trip to the swimming classes were omitted from the Sunday story. Mrs. Robert Chambers, Mrs. Bobby Dickman, Mrs. Milton Devore and Mrs. William Wilhite went twice. Mrs. Herman Rausch was a chaperone three times.

Attend Reunion Of Eberhardt Family Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Eberhardt and family and Mrs. G. H. Eberhardt and daughter Onalee were in Beardstown on Sunday and attended the annual Eberhardt reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Schaefer.

Thirty-eight guests were in attendance from Decatur, Granite City, Champaign, Springfield and Joliet, Illinois; Ogden, Iowa; Chippewa Falls and Madison, Wisconsin; Columbus, Indiana; and Honolulu, Hawaii.

The reunion will be held in Decatur, Illinois, next year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Peyer.

CAMEO—Study in likeness is made by Queen Elizabeth II, left, and Princess Margaret, clad for rainy weather in Stockholm during the Royal Family's state visit to Sweden.

80 Of Swedish Descent Present At Cass Picnic

VIRGINIA—Eighty persons of Swedish descent met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson for the annual Swedish picnic on Sunday, June 17. All are descendants of the Swedes that settled in Central Illinois during the 1880's and 1890's and part of larger groups that brought one-fourth of Sweden's population to America between the years of 1850-1900.

It was recalled during the meeting that the first Swedish picnic was held near Little Indian, Cass county, 60 years ago.

Mrs. Ruth Zimmerman, dean of women at Western Illinois State College, gave a most interesting and informative talk on her recent tour of Sweden. During her stay there, Mrs. Zimmerman was forcibly impressed with the fact the Swedes, while using the modern technological methods and knowledge in the management of their country's affairs, are still preserving the best of the old, thus striking a happy balance between the new and the old.

Following the basket dinner, Paul Peterson, president of the group, presided over the business meeting. The officers elected for next year are: Mrs. Fred Orne, president; Mrs. Leland McGinnis, vice president; Martha Orne, secretary-treasurer.

The group accepted the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Leland McGinnis of Arcadia to hold the 1957 reunion at their home.

Guests from a distance included: Mrs. Blanche Holem, South Bend, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Anton Roos of Princeton, the Robert Petersons of Silvis and Ted Petersons of Alton.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Peterson of Galva and Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Vigor of Kewanee, Mrs. Margaret Epler Linker of Galva were Sunday guests of Mrs. Luella Wolff. Mrs. Linker is 93 years of age and teaches a Sunday School class in the Galva Presbyterian church.

The executive board of the Cass County Home Bureau, unit chairmen and the county ways and means committee will meet June 29 at 1 o'clock, CST, at the Farm Bureau Hall in Virginia. Among items of business will be plans for the food stand at the 4-H Fair, Aug. 22-23-24-25.

The Menard County 4-H Federation has invited the officers of the Cass County 4-H Federation and other Federation delegates to attend their meeting in Petersburg June 28. The program will include winning members from the Menard County Share-the-Fun and the speech contest for Menard county.

DEGREE BY DEGREES

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Philip John Mazziotti isn't a slow learner, despite the fact he required 24 full semesters and one summer school to win his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

He had almost a straight-A average during the 15½ years since he enrolled.

Except for one semester in 1941 and a three-year tour of active duty with the Army Air Force during World War II, Mazziotti has been in class every semester. He's held a job, moving from draftsman to chief engineer while a student in one or two courses per semester in night school.

The first U. S. Census in 1790 listed 3,929,214 people.

Patterson Bible School Closes With Program

PATTERSON—The Daily Vacation Bible school, which was held the past two weeks at the Willmington Baptist Church, came to a close last Friday with the commencement exercises held in the evening. Miss Lucille Dawdy was superintendent of the school and there was an enrollment of 78, with an average attendance of 70.

The usual opening exercise was held at the beginning of the program with the salute to the flag, followed by songs by the nursery and beginners; Primary pupils gave scripture readings and songs; Juniors gave memorized scripture verses, also the intermediates; Rev. Earl Bryan, pastor of the church, gave a short talk, and the meeting closed with the viewing of the handwork made by the pupils during the school.

Miss Dawdy was assisted by various members of the church.

Mrs. Phyllis Hallock is a patient at the Passavant Hospital in Jacksonville, having undergone surgery on Tuesday.

Versatile Corduroy Coat

BY GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The coat that you can wear spring, summer and fall is a good investment for any wardrobe.

It should be good for travel, for wear in city or country, in sun or rain. It should be light enough to go over summer clothes, yet provide enough warmth for cool evenings and those chill, rainy spring days in both summer and early autumn.

This year, this all-purpose coat comes in corduroy — corduroy of many widths, colors and textures. It may be a trench coat or it may be cut on Empire lines. Because it's water-repellent, it eliminates need for an extra coat when you travel.

We show (left) the corduroy coat in pale beige, worn with print dress and dressy accessories for late afternoon or early evening. Same coat (right) with Empire half-belt gets simple, tailored accessories for daytime wear.

Consumption Of Meats Pleases Stock Raisers

By SAM DAWSON

DENVER (AP) — The men who have steaks, bacon and lamb chops still on the hoof are feeling better today. But they are keeping a wary eye on the life expectancy of the general good times as well as on the livestock markets.

With good times have come some of the meat industry's best friends: The big baby crops, the spreading custom of backyard grilling of steaks, the popularity of the hamburger with the young, the upgrading of consumer buying and increased meat consumption.

Livestock men are counting on the prices they get firming up a little more after their long drop. But they know that full paychecks and a feeling of prosperity throughout the land has a lot to do with boosting meat consumption to record highs.

They also know that good times determines to a large extent which of their individual meat products gets the public's money. The housewife switches quickly from expensive to cheap cuts, or even to meat substitutes when pay checks shrink or stop altogether for a while.

Cattlemen feel that the long drought is breaking, especially on the ranges to the north of here. Hog feeders in the Midwest have perked up since prices bounced back some from their lows. Sheepmen out here hope for firm prices on lambs, and also count on the government's new incentive payments on wool.

There's going to be plenty of meat going to market this fall. But people have been eating all that's offered, points out Radford Hall, executive secretary of the American National Cattlemen's Assn. There are no big inventories in storage. The cattleman's troubles stem from high production pushing prices to the weak side, from rising costs, and above all from drought in most regions to the south of here.

Despite the drought inroads the number of cattle in the nation has been growing. There are around 97½ million head, some 60 million of them beef cattle, both record highs. The association estimates that more than 13 billion pounds of beef will be eaten by Americans this year, some 82 pounds per capita.

Both Hall and Dave Rice, Colorado Cattlemen's Assn. secretary, boast that cattlemen have "never asked a direct subsidy from the government."

However, the Agriculture Department has agreed that if a big run to market this fall should depress prices badly, it will buy meat at the market price for such things as school lunches with the aim of halting the drop.

The department also will aid wool growers with an incentive plan that would supplement the price they'll get for their clip if the market stays depressed.

Big Torque of the Best Sellers

IT WOULD stand to reason that automobiles selling in the same league, so to speak, would be pretty close in their engineering specifications.

Like in "torque multiplication"—the twisting force a transmission delivers to the drive shaft. (The greater the torque multiplication, the greater the performance).

But what do you find?

You find that any '56 Buick with advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow delivers a higher torque ratio than any standard-production car in America.*

And you find that this high-torque performance is one reason for Buick's best-seller standing. For Buick is now more strongly positioned in the Top 3 of the nation's biggest-selling automobiles.

That's news—and there's plenty more where that came from.

For the '56 Buick is jam-packed with new engineering and styling advances to make it the best Buick yet, by far.

That new Dynaflow, for example. Not only does it bring you the top torque ratio in the nation today. It brings you the world's only switch-pitch performance in cars—plus a new part-throttle getaway response that's swifter, surer, and a gas-saver to boot.

The big new V8 engine you find in every '56 Buick—it's 322-cubic-inches big, and packed with the highest horsepowers, the highest compressions and the most advanced developments in all Buick annals.

There's a joyous new ride, too—steadied on a massive X-braced keel—cushioned on deep-oil shock absorbers—and buoyant with a new levelness on both country road and highway.

There's a new steering magic here that puts a new ease at your finger tips, and a new "sense of direction" in your every handling maneuver.

Thing to do, of course, is to come see and try for yourself.

That way you can also get a good hard look at the prices that have helped move Buick to a new sales success—to outselling all other cars in America except two of the well-known smaller ones.

Will you do that, this week?

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Linen Shower For Sylvia Shortridge Given At Ashland

ASHLAND—Mrs. Roy Smedley entertained at a linen shower at her home here last Friday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Sylvia Shortridge of Philadelphia. Mrs. Smedley was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. James Gephart of Springfield, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Smedley of this city.

The color scheme was pink and blue; the door was banked with roses and a large basket of roses was on the table. Miss Shortridge is to be married July 1.

Games were played, one of them being a guessing game of the gifts before they were opened, and another concerned advice to the bride-to-be. The judges were Mrs. Nora Bailey and Mrs. Charles Daniels. Prizes were won by Mrs. Betty Ward of Jacksonville and Mrs. Adeline Katkins of Philadelphia.

Guests present were Mrs. Della Dickerson, Mrs. Betty Ward and Connie and Mrs. Beverly Meadows of Jacksonville; Mrs. Betty Davis of Virginia; Mrs. Florence Gephart of Springfield; Mrs. Fanella Daniels, Mrs. Charles Daniels and Mrs. Adeline Watkins of Philadelphia; Mrs. Grace Kendall, Mrs. Lena Wyatt, Mrs. Glenna Jones, Mrs. Eula Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Nora Bailey, Mrs. Irene Daniels, Mrs. Frank Bailey, Mrs. Delores Edwards, Mrs. Henrietta Smedley, the Misses Lorena Bailey, Sharon Forman and Wanda Smedley, and Mrs. Winnie Smedley, all of this city; Mrs. Jack King, mother of the groom-to-be, Virginia; and Mrs. Roscoe Shortridge, mother of the bride-to-be, Philadelphia.

Refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches (cut heart shape), carrot salad, cherry salad, punch and coffee were served, with Wanda Smedley and Sharon Forman assisting in serving.

BROOKLYN CLASS HONORS PASTOR

The Golden Rule class of the Brooklyn church met Monday evening in the basement of the church with Rev. and Mrs. Tucker as the honored guests. The pastor and Mrs. Tucker will leave shortly for a new location in the northern part of the state.

There were 28 members and children present. The Tucker's were presented with a gift from the class. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, potato chips, iced tea or coffee were served.

WARNING — Development of new weapons is being slowed by lack of funds and red tape within the Pentagon. So states Lt. Gen. Donald L. Putt, above, Air Force chief of staff for development, who outlined his criticism in closed-door testimony before the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee. Putt recommends that the proposed 610-million-dollar Air Force research budget be upped by 250 million dollars.

NEW PLANE DATA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An aircraft plant report says planes today are vastly different from those in World War II. A World War II fighter required about 7,000 parts. A modern jet needs 25,000. A tolerance of 1/32 of an inch could pass for some parts in a second world war craft, where the modern fighter has to have 1/500 of an inch. And just a scuff on a wing is enough to cause a reduction of 20 miles an hour in speed—a loss that can be fatal to a pilot when he's dog fighting for his life.
